Overview

Newark, New Jersey Demographics Report

Overview:

The Demographics Unit conducted a joint operation with the Newark Police Department's Criminal Intelligence Unit. The operation examined the City of Newark, New Jersey in an effort to identify the existence of population centers and business districts of communities of interest.

This examination further identified Locations of Concern. These locations provide the maximum ability to assess the general opinions and general activity of these communities.

Methodology:

The Demographics Unit reviewed census reports as well as federal, state and local law enforcement computer systems to locate the largest geographic population concentrations of people from countries of concern. Upon identification of these locations, field work was conducted to determine the major Locations of Concern in Newark, New Jersey.

For the purposes of this report, a Location of Concern is defined as follows:

- Localized center of activity for a particular ethnic group.
- Location that persons of concern may be attracted to.
- Location that individuals may frequent to search for ethnic companionship.
- Location that individuals may find co-conspirators for illegal actions.
- Location that has demonstrated a significant pattern of illegal activities.
- Location that can be used as a listening post.
- Popular hangout or meeting location for a particular ethnic group that provides a forum for listening to neighborhood gossip or otherwise provide an overall feel for the community.

Summary:

The Demographics Unit identified a significant West African population in the examined area of Newark. The largest population of West Africans are Nigerians. Although the unit identified several Nigerian Mosques there was an absence of the usual accompanying infrastructure i.e. Halal butchers, Ethnic grocery stores, book stores etc.

There appears to be a sizeable and growing non-immigrant African-American Muslim population. A large number of the identified locations are supported by this population.

The Demographics Unit successfully identified persons of Guyanese, Arab, South Asian and Turkish descent. However, the population is dispersed throughout the city and not concentrated enough to support commercial establishments such as cafés, restaurants or specialized grocery locations.

The largest immigrant communities in the examined area are from Portugal and Brazil. No Muslim component within these communities was identified, with the exception of one identified location being owned and operated by a Brazilian Muslim of Palestinian descent.
